The funeral of W. H. Davis yesterday was under the auspices of the Elks, of which he was a honored member, and was largely attended by relatives and friends. Interment in Maysville Cemetery.

Mr. P. W. Wheeler received a letter this morning from his nephew, Dr. Carl L. Wheeler of Lexington, relative to the condition of his father, Mr. Charles Wheeler, who was injured in an auto crash Monday. An extract from the Doctor's letter says: "While his injuries are quite painful, I don't think will result permanently, although it is a little early yet to tell the full extent of his injuries."

Assistant Pastor of St. Patrick's
Rev. Father P. M. Jones, Pastor of St. Patrick's Catholic Church of this city is to have an assistant pastor, Rev. Father Joseph H. W. of Brookville, Ky., who will begin his new duties here today.

Father Jones has been so energetic and untiring in the parish work in Maysville that his health was weakening under the strain and his new assistant will relieve him and also add greatly to the solution of all active Church work.

GUN CLUB SHOOT

Walter Green Won Beautiful Silver
Trophy Cup

As advertised the Maysville Gun Club held their big shoot on the local grounds yesterday afternoon. It was an ideal day for it and there were fully one hundred people present to witness the shooting.

The first five events were for twenty birds
and the following are the scores:

W. H. Taft J. S. Sherman.
REPUBLICAN TICKET.

FOR PRESIDENT,
WILLIAM HOWARD TAFT.

FOR VICE PRESIDENT,
JAMES S. SHERMAN.

FOR CONGRESS,
HON. HARRY BAILEY.

The first declaration in the Democratic platform is an assault on a Protective Tariff. The Republican platform is outspoken for such a Tariff. Here is one issue squarely joined, and history proves the strength of the Republican position.

Speaking of Wilson and the Tariff, if memory serves us right, we had a three years' experience with another Wilson measure from 1893 to 1896.

Under the Wilson bill of Cleveland's administration there was no Tariff on wool and 50 per cent. on goods, and the most flourishing industry was the souphouses.

THE BLIGHT OF DEMOCRACY.

The sheriff was the busiest man in Highland county. The facts from his records are appalling. From 1893 to 1897 he sold two hundred and twenty-four farms and homes, served five hundred and thirty-one executions; and closed the following large industries: The Ohio Chair Co.; The Hillsboro Manufacturing Co.; The Hillsboro Gas Co.; The Hillsboro Woolen Mills; The Citizens National bank; and the First National Bank. A bankrupt community is a bad market.

If you were asked to do something that might possibly reduce the value of your land and your product from one-half to three-fourths would you take that risk?

With tariff for revenue prices for your land and your product can you beat the sheriff to your mortgage?

What Highland country will take a chance on a return to such conditions?

A vote for William H. Taft insures a continuation of present conditions.—The above editorial appeared in the Hillsboro Ohio, Dispatch, Friday, October 4, 1912.

THE ISSUE AND THE HANDWRITING.

Issues are not determined by men, but by events. When a real issue impends the most adroit of campaign managers can no more create an issue than he can evade one. It is not a matter of political generals selecting the issues upon which a campaign shall be fought; campaigns have a habit of developing issues that overshadow the original one and convert it into a mere preliminary skirmish.

For months the political outposts have been skirmishing; there has been a rattling number of outpost fights, but the real battle field was not determined until within the past fortnight, for the real issue had not developed.

But today the real battle field is revealed, the real issue has come to the front; the preliminary engagements of the past month have dwarfed into outpost affairs. Again we have learned that it is not for generals to determine battle fields, that it is not for candidates to determine the issues that are before the people.

The campaign has progressed to the point where it is apparent that the split in the Republican forces means the election of a free trade administration, a free trade congress—and the men of America all too well know that that means industrial depression, panic, loss of employment and hard times. The Republican party has upheld those principles and policies which have made the nation prosperous—to divide the Republican forces upon the election day will not result in the election of a man supporting those principles and policies, but in the election of the man and men who will drag them down and destroy them.

Colonel Roosevelt's charge has been brilliant, it has been sensational, it has been characteristic, but it is now apparent that it can have but one result—the defeat of the very principles and policies which he is seeking to maintain. Backed by the vote of the "Solid South," faced by divided Republican forces in great industrial and agricultural states, a man needs neither to be a prophet nor the son of a prophet to appreciate the fact that a free trade, Democratic administration may be ushered into power.

It is a realization of this situation by the people of the great Northern and Eastern states which has made the real issue, which has determined the real battle ground upon which the fight will be conducted during the closing weeks of the campaign.

Shall prosperity and protection be kicked out? Shall free trade and hard times be voted in? These then are the questions that the voter must answer when he goes to the polling place in November. They may be entirely different from those which many of us thought would be asked; they may be entirely different from those which the campaign managers had determined would be best suited to their purpose, but they are the ones determined by events and therefore the real ones.

The protective tariff is alone to be maintained by the election of a Republican administration. This fact is apparent to any one who studies either the politics or the past or the politics of today. To divide the forces believing in protection, believing in an honest dollar, believing in the upholding of the national honor and integrity, is to defeat these very things by electing men who have always opposed and fought them.—Commercial Tribune.

The United States is the greatest Free-Trade country on earth. Considerably more than half our imports come in free, and the Tariff is of much less per capita here than it is in Free-Trade England.

THE TARIFF ISSUE.

No argument is necessary to show the manufacturers of the country on which side of this question they should take their stand. Anything that hurts the country's manufacturing industries is bound to hurt the workingman also, so that the Tariff issue will be brought home alike to capitalist and laborer.

With Protection as the dominant issue the Republican party will win.—Camden Post-Telegram.

WHEN THE MEN GO TO TOWN.

In the News American Magazine Edna Ferber, writing another Emma Mc Chesney story, presents as one of her characters Blanche LeHaye, the burlesque queen, who makes a good many comments on life, as for example, the following:

"Say, men are all alike. What they see in a dingy, half-fed, ignorant bunch like us, I don't know. But the minute a man goes to Cleveland, or Pittsburgh or somewhere on business he'll bust up a burlesque show, and what's more, he'll enjoy it."

Trained Eyes

Great Help to be Able to See Things

By F. R. O. CARPENTER

THE world is littered with failures caused by eyes that could not see opportunity at the door. The combination of the untrained eye and the untrained mind is a handicap that ties the world to drudgery. It is the man whose eyes see beneath the surface of things who wins success.

Accurate observation is one of the rarest arts in the world. The untrained eye jumps to conclusions that have no reality in fact. The mind is blinded and deceived by eyes that lie. It is a common occurrence in court to have two honest witnesses differ diametrically upon essential points of their testimony. Try to describe from memory your most intimate friend so that a stranger could pick him out of a crowd and you will discover how little you have been using your eyes.

It is the man or woman who sees things overlooked by others, things to which others have been blind, who achieves success. It was because Watt could see an enormous power of tremendous potentiality in the steam which lifted the lid of the bubbling tea kettle that we have the steam engine of today, and yet steam had been making noisy tea kettles for thousands of years for unseeing eyes. And it is the same in all the great discoveries that have changed this world from savagery to civilization. It is the art of seeing with trained eyes.

The boy or girl who sets out deliberately to train eye and the registering mind to accurate observation has taken the first great step in real self-education. They are giving themselves the best equipment for the battle of life and preparing themselves to welcome opportunity.

It was a young man who had trained himself to see under the surface of things who made a fortune out of discarded tin cans in a western mining camp. The cans littered the streets and alleys where they had been thrown by the hungry, careless miners. They were kicked about and trodden upon by hundreds of money-mad men daily, but one day noticed that one of the waste cans, partly submerged in the water that was pumped from the mines, collected a thin coat of copper. He saw that thousands of dollars' worth of copper in solution was going to waste in the water that poured from the mines. He saw that the tin cans caught this fleeing copper and precipitated it. In a few years he was one of the nation's mining magnates.

Train the eye to see things as they are, to see things which the most of us are overlooking as commonplace. Nature is still holding back many secrets the discovery of which may be as profound in results upon civilization as the advent of steam or electricity, and they are secrets that will be yielded only to the trained eye and disciplined brain.

Two things are requisite for the healthy and happy growth and development of the children—a playground and a garden. Children need a place like an empty barn in which they can swing and amuse themselves in wet and wintry as well as in hot sultry weather, indulging those games which are requisite for the schooling alike of their muscles and nerves.

Fashion has exerted a baleful influence over the best feelings of the mother, for she has become willing to sacrifice the health and well-being of her children by unsightly exposure of the arms and legs, which is often attended by the most serious injury to the child. Merino undershirts should be worn by the girls in winter, after, woolen stockings and heavy shoes.

Avoid guarding the neck and throat of boys and girls. By reason of the proximity of the neck to the seat of circulation this very quickly has the temperature unduly increased by an excess of covering, to relieve which the articles surrounding the neck are often suddenly removed. Perspiration is then checked and throat diseases of course follow.

As the child advances in age his desire for employment and amusement will increase. Every proper opportunity, therefore, should be given for the due exercise of both body and mind, but neither should be too fatigued. Care should be taken at this time to provide such employment or amusement as shall exercise the arms as well as the legs, playing ball, pitching horseshoes and the like. After selecting proper games and exercises for children constant care should be taken that none are indulged in to excess.

Every violent exertion is attended by a strain upon some one part or other of the body.

In jumping from great heights, leaping over elevations, lifting great weights, in fact, in every exertion of this kind the boy risks producing a disability for life. It is by these hazardous experiments that ruptures are so frequently produced. On this account the exercises of a well-regulated gymnasium become so valuable, as the performances are graduated, beginning with the most easy and progressively arriving at the more difficult.

In our mad scramble after the almighty dollar we forget that there is something of far more value than gold, something which some of our wealthiest and most influential men do not possess, something that the poorest man has a chance to have and something which very few men can rightly lay claim to. "What is that?" you may ask. No need to hesitate before replying. It is a spotless reputation.

A person with good brains can amass a fortune, a hypocrite can deceive persons into believing him a saint and a person with tremendous will power who can withstand temptation and elude the many pitfalls that lure the unsuspecting down the path of destruction.

It is hard to keep in the straight road and lead a straight life in the face of temptation, but no battle can be won without fighting.

The straight path is not lined with beds of roses. Neither is it lined with drinking saloons.

Hardships must be met bravely; joy and sorrow often come hand in hand.

What person need be afraid to face the world with a clean record and a good name? Clothes matter very little. They do not make the man.

Courage and honesty are far better possessions than a dress suit and a motor car.

TOBACCO

1912 Crop is Excellent

Area Harvested This Year 20 Per Cent. Greater

Yield Reaches a Total of 949,993,500 Pounds

From Enquirer's Summary.

While it will be a record-breaker the tobacco crop of the United States has kept pace with wheat, corn and other crops in 1912, and the yield will be considerably in excess of last year. Both the acreage and the total production will not fall far short of the big production years of 1909 and 1910.

Never before in the history of the tobacco crop has the weather throughout the entire tobacco growing region been so favorable to the proper growth and early maturity of the plants. After a somewhat late start in certain sections, notably the burley belt of Kentucky, Indiana and Ohio, a splendid growing season was encountered up to the time of harvest. Cutting was completed earlier this year than usual, practically the entire crop being safely housed by October 1st. Only in scattering sections was the crop slow to mature, and it is probable that not more than 5 per cent. of the crop remained unharvested October 1st.

THE TOTAL PRODUCTION.

Calculations based on the Enquirer's thorough canvass of all the counties of Kentucky, Ohio and Indiana and the important tobacco-growing regions of every state producing tobacco for commercial purposes, indicates a total yield this year of 949,993,500 pounds grown on an area of 1,056,832 acres. Last year's acreage totaled 811,689 acres, producing approximately 742,060,500 pounds. This is an increase of 178,143, or 20 per cent. in area, and a gain of 207,933,000 pounds, or 27 per cent. in yield. The Government's figures for 1911 gave an estimate of 1,013,000 acres, and 1,366,000 acres in 1910. The official estimate of the production the past three years was as follows: 1911, 905,109,000 pounds; 1910, 1,103,415,000 pounds; 1909, 1,056,765,000 pounds. From these figures it will be easily seen how close to the record crops of 1909 and 1910 the present crop will approach.

KENTUCKY MAKES BIG GAIN.

Kentucky, the largest tobacco production section in the world, this year raised an area of 333,560 acres, yielding a total 314,867,500 pounds, a clear gain over last year of 90,995 acres in area planted and an increase of 72,472,800 pounds, or 21 per cent. in production. The planting season was delayed somewhat by inclement weather, but the crop came to early maturity because of a splendid growing season throughout the summer period.

North Carolina, which ranks second among the largest tobacco-producing States of the country, this year reports a harvested area of 210,000 acres, with an estimated yield of 147,000,000 pounds. The quality this year is said to be a shade inferior to that of the 1911 crop. The yield per acre, however, was heavier. The outlook is most encouraging for an advance in price for the 1912 crop.

IN THE BURLEY BELT

In the burley belt conditions at harvest were much more satisfactory than had been anticipated earlier in the season. Many counties which planned to put out a large acreage seemed handicapped at planting time by unfavorable weather conditions and in some sections scarcity of plants. At the time The Enquirer's spring canvass was made it seemed inevitable that the intended area would have to be reduced. Much of the crop was planted late, however, and made such rapid growth that it was cut almost simultaneously with the earlier planting. Reports from practically every county in the burley belt indicate not only a large yield, but a decided improvement over previous crops in quality. Many sections claim the best crop ever raised. A conservative estimate of the area of burley tobacco harvested this year may be given as follows: Kentucky 173,736 acres, Ohio 21,067 acres, Indiana 10,598 acres, West Virginia and scattering sections, 10,000 acres; total 215,401 acres. The harvested acreage in 1911 was 183,089 acres, making an increase this year of 32,312 acres, or 17 per cent. The harvested burley in 1910 was 284,000 acres; 1909, 254,897 acres.

Based on the average yield in the various counties a total of 205,181,000 pounds of burley tobacco is indicated for 1912. Last year the total production was 174,185,700 pounds.

The average of 1911-12 and yield in Mason, Fleming, Bracken and Lewis counties:

Quality of 1912 crop:

Mason—Growers say this year's crop beat ever grown in county. Fine texture and good color.

Fleming—Fine crop. Mostly all of it is curing in splendid shape. Better color than usual. Undoubtedly finest crop ever raised in this county.

Bracken—The 1912 crop is considered one of the finest in quality, size and condition ever harvested in this county. Color is very bright.

Lewis—A good quality, crop curing nicely.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For great many years doctors pronounced it to be a disease which could not be cured, and hypothesized it to be a constitutional disease, and therefore incurable. It is now known that Catarrh is a constitutional disease and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hell's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O., is the only constitutional cure for the disease. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drams to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials. Ad dress, F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O.

Sold by Druggists, 76c.

Take Hell's Family Pill for one teaspoonful.

W. F. Lynch, 127 W. Third street, Mayville, Ky., says: "Doan's Kidney Pill is a fine medicine. My kidneys were weak and the passages of the kidney secretions were scanty and painful. Having used Doan's Kidney Pill before, I again got a box and their use quickly restored my kidneys to a normal condition. I continued using Doan's Kidney Pill and they completely relieved me."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milbora Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.
